Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 4-6, 8 and 10 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- claim 4 recites "the surface" which should be amended to --a surface--,
- claim 5 recites "the breadth" which should be amended to --a breadth--,
- claim 6 recites "the surface" which should be amended to --a surface--,
- claim 8 recites "the one" which should be amended to --a one--, and
- claim 10 recites "the pin" which should be amended to --the plug--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 8-9 and 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bierman (USPN 4,711,636). Bierman discloses an adhesive bandage (see 5:9), a securing element (34,42) and a carrier element (40). The securing element includes a first coupling opening (50) which is releaseably connectable with a second coupling plug/pin (62,64) on the carrier element. See figure 4. Element 28 (filter) is secured on the carrier element via a clamping function. See figure 5.

Art Unit: 3763

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bierman (USPN 5354282). Bierman discloses an adhesive bandage (base pas), a securing element (16b,124) and a carrier element (20b). The securing element includes a first coupling element (92) which is releaseably connectable with a second coupling element (20a) on the carrier element. See figure 8. The securing element includes openings and gaps on a bar (128). See figure 10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bierman (USPN '282 and '636, respectively). Bierman meets the claim limitations as described above but fails to include the bars and the plug/opening having the claimed shape. However, the Federal Circuit has held, where the only difference between the prior art and the claims was a recitation of relative dimension/size/proportion of the claimed device and a device having the claimed relative dimensions would not perform differently than the prior art device, the claimed device was not patentably distinct from the prior art device.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. USPNs 4,419,094 and 5,944,696.
